Presentation Submissions: 2024 mEd Alliance Symposium - STEMtastic Adventures!

For the mEducation Alliance's 14th annual Symposium, we are looking for exceptional presenters and enthusiastic attendees interested in propelling learners on STEMtastic Adventures!

As with our prior Symposia, you'll be joined by policymakers, practitioners, funders, researchers, and other attendees to share common interests in advancing STEM learning opportunities, particularly for pre-primary, primary and secondary-aged learners, in formal and informal settings in lower-resource contexts.

Do you have a story to tell about propelling learners on STEMtastic Adventures?
Tell us and, if you are selected to present, the event organizers will contact you to confirm your participation, determine the "best fit" session format, and invite you to submit a short video about your idea and/or project which we can feature prior to and during the Symposium event.

We are looking for all types of presentation proposals, including those that use low-cost tech and non-tech interventions.

Please note: The final submission date for presentations is March 29, 2024. We will review and select proposals on a rolling basis.

If you have any questions, feel free to e-mail us at medalliance@meducationalliance.org.
